

The Steeplejack and Lightning Protection Training Group

Apply to Join Today!

The award-winning Steeplejack and Lightning Protection Training Group (SLPTG) is a membership organisation which works closely with the National Construction College, the main provider of training to the industry, and CITB on issues relating to grants, funding and the development of courses within the steeplejack and lightning conductor engineer professions.

Why join?

Being a member of SLPTG will allow you to shape the training requirements for the industry.

SLPTG worked closely with ATLAS and CSCS to introduce a major new requirement for Lightning Conductor Engineer and Steeplejack operatives renewing their CSCS card to undertake a one-day Working at Height for Lightning Conductor Engineers or Anchors for Steeplejacks course.

Joining SLPTG will provide you and your employees with:

- a monthly e-newsletter with regular updates on subsidised training and grants available
- assistance with arranging and planning training for your workforce
- subsidised specialist training courses for your operatives and managers
- assistance with the completion of CITB Training Plans and grant forms
- advice and assistance regarding CITB grants and additional funding
- the opportunity to attend networking events with relevant guest speakers.

Who can become a member?

Membership is open to any company operating in the industry provided they are CITB registered and employ CSCS card holders. Membership is also available to manufacturers, non-CITB registered companies and those with an interest in the industry, who are able to join but without voting rights. Non-CITB registered companies should be aware that the many of the benefits listed will not be available to them.

How do I become a member?

Prospective members must complete an application form and return a brief outline on company letterhead of the company's activities. A payment of £400+VAT will also be required.
